

For 16 years Mike Wenk taught reading and English language arts to middle and high school students in Michigan and Colorado. He worked as an English language arts content specialist for four years with Jefferson County Schools in Denver, where his duties included writing curriculum, providing professional development, and promoting reading and writing in all content areas. Mike serves as the editor of Statement, the professional journal of the Colorado Language Arts Society, and has been published in English Journal and Colorado Reading Council Journal. In 2009 he helped to create the Reading, Writing, and Communicating Standards for the state of Colorado, and advised the Colorado Career and Technical Education Standards Committee on incorporating literacy skills in their content areas. Mike completed a master's degree in Information and Learning Technologies in 2000 at the University of Colorado at Denver, and is currently pursuing a Ph.D in Literacy Studies at the University of Colorado in Boulder.